Join CAW to examine National survey data from the Yale Program on Climate Change Communication, together with data combined from more than 40 New Hampshire, regional, or nationwide US surveys conducted by the UNH Survey Center (2010-2019), to find out what it tells us about support for climate action, climate policy, and resilience building efforts.

Workshop Objectives:

- To learn what national and local survey data tells us about the support for climate action
- To help municipal officials and community groups understand what people support

Presenters: Dr. Lawrence Hamilton, Professor of Sociology and Senior Fellow in the Carsey School of Public Policy at the University of New Hampshire, and Dr. Matt Cutler, Social Scientist at the Northeast Fisheries Science Center.
