 - Climate Change in the American Mind: Data, Tools, and Trends, published in the journal Environment. We have made 10 years of our Climate Change in the American Mind (CCAM) survey data publicly available. We have also launched an interactive data visualization tool where you can explore the diversity of American responses to climate change for yourself. The tool enables you to examine Americans’ climate change beliefs, risk perceptions, policy support, and behaviors nationally, over time, and broken down by different demographic and political groups.
